small farms™

FIELD GOODS (www.field-goods.com) is a subscription food delivery service based in Athens, NY that brings locally farmed fresh fruits and vegetables to individuals at their workplace and community pick-up locations. FIELD GOODS' mission is to open the floodgates for the flow of fresh food from small farms to urban and suburban communities. Field Goods goals are to bring food of superior taste, freshness, and nutritional value to a large audience and to offer an accessible and profitable channel for small producers to sell their product.

About the Founder

Donna Williams founded Field Goods in September 2010 after she completed agriculture economic development consulting work for the Greene County, NY Industrial Development Agency. Field Goods was an inevitable outgrowth of this work, her belief in the positive power of local food and small business, and her new venture experience in consumer health, e-commerce, and the natural food industry.
